THINGS I FORGET TO TELL MYSELF

DIRECTOR
Shelly Silver

DURATION
1:49

YEAR
1989

ORIGINAL LANGUAGE
English (text on-screen)
No dialogue

CATEGORY
Video Art

DESCRIPTION
Things I Forget to Tell Myself is an elusive reflexion on the disclosure and withholding of information; on what is shown or not shown. Asks Silver: "Once seen, how is it decoded and received?" Images and sounds recorded in the streets of New York City are rhythmically intercut with a fragmented sentence: "We waste time on absurd clues and the truth passes us by, without our knowing it."

SOUND
Mono

SHOOTING FORMAT
3/4" video

KEYWORDS
Essay, Information, Time, Dissimulation, New York

THEMES
Identity
Private life
Society