DESCRIPTION
What is sexual assault? A brutal attack by a demented stranger in a deserted alley? Or is the assailant more often someone the victim knows, perhaps loves and trusts? No Means No raises public awareness on the least recognized form of sexual assault : acquaintance rape. The video challenges both men and women to examine ways in which patterns of rape may be perpetuated, such as through our socialization and in the game of seduction. Innovative video techniques in interviews, case histories of survivors and a group forum create interest and deliver high informational impact.
