

THE INCONSEQUENTIAL SKIN OF THINGS

DIRECTOR

Paul Landon

DURATION

11:22

YEAR

1987

ORIGINAL LANGUAGE

English

Spanish

CATEGORY

Video Art

DESCRIPTION

Manipulation of the temporal and pictorial qualities of the recorded image reduces its potential for representation on a conscious level. Inspired by the poem A Blind Man by Jorge Luis Borges, this video presents images as textures and surfaces reflecting the two-dimensional quality of the video screen and suggesting how a blind person might perceive the world.

IMAGE FORMAT

4:3

SOUND

Stereo

---

KEYWORDS

Texture, Blindness, Representation, Portrait, Poetry

THEMES

Art and culture