Télé-visite au musée

DESCRIPTION
This is the first part of a series of satellite video programs sponsored by UQAM. Télé-visite au Musée was to have been broadcast via TV. It never was. It consisted of a series of interviews with luminaries from the Montreal arts milieu—particularly those involved in current and contemporary art dissemination. The questions it focused on attempted to stimulate reflection among a wider general public on the importance of current and contemporary art dissemination in a national and international context. The role that the Musée d'art contemporain should play in this regard was at the centre of this discussion.
