DESCRIPTION
What is contemporary art? In this second episode, the curators of Vidéozones, Boshko Boscovic and Louise Déry make connections between this broad artistic movement and the video selection presented during the Montréal/Brooklyn exhibition at the Galerie de l'UQAM and at Interstate Projects.

This series documents the Brooklyn/Montreal project, a Centre Clark initiative involving 16 institutions and 40 artists in a series of reciprocal exhibitions that revealed the cultural differences and similarities of two cities, both standard-bearers of contemporary art in North America. The event took place in Montreal from October 19 to November 17, 2012, and in Brooklyn from January 10 to February 2, 2013.
