DESCRIPTION

In a music-punctuated story set in the near future, the Pizza Delivery Guy and his wife Late Catharsis are passionately in love. Formerly a sculptor, he presently acts as a DJ in a nightclub. Under the influence of her former teacher the alchemist Fulcanelli, she basks in phony operatic palaces. In this profoundly wild ghetto where marginal artists and rivals rub shoulders, their attempts to break with their past finally come to an end, when the Pizza Delivery Guy runs into a mutant woman—a new hope for contemporary art spreading envy and dust over the city.
