DESCRIPTION

A three part sampler. The first is Brains Gather In Formation, an experimental montage of inquiry in the mental process and progression. Growing out of the artist's study of the language, culture and behaviour of the Thai people. Second, is Blossoms in Balossom, an electrobiological experiment in image hybridization. An attempt is made to pollinate Thai orchids with Canadian-owned and operated spermatozoa. Last is Croc Rock, where Byron Black visits the famous crocodile farm in Samut Prakarn, Thailand, and videotapes the repellent prehistoric beast in its natural habitat. He then edits this footage to play with a recording of Elton John's Crocodile Rock.
