

INDIEN ATSIKAMĚK DIT TĚTE DE BOULE, WEYMONTACHIE, QC.

DIRECTOR

Gilles Blanchet

DURATION

0:29

YEAR

1972

ORIGINAL LANGUAGE

French

CATEGORY

Documentary

Image not found or type unknown

DESCRIPTION

Young Native Americans from the Weymontachie reserve talk about their desire to live on the land and preserve their language and culture. Outdoor scenes illustrate the beauty of the landscape and the traditional ways of the Weymontachie people. This video examines their feelings of belonging to their culture and ends with commentary on the government's attitude towards Native Americans.

IMAGE FORMAT

4:3

SOUND

Mono

KEYWORDS

First nations, Tradition, Preservation, Belonging, Custom, Language

THEMES

Art and culture

Identity

Society