DESCRIPTION

Can you garden in the winter ?

Is this the start of the Snow food movement ?

This hilarious short film, placed amidst food culture and the slow food movement, mocks self help, social media, and the do it yourself ethic, ranging through various humour types from who's fooling who to self deprecation.

Award winning Cape Breton Nova Scotia documentary maker Neal Livingston, for the first time in 50 years of filmmaking, makes himself the subject of his new film.
